IN MEMORIAM

CHENAULT — In sad but loving memory of my dear husband and our father, Samuel E. Chenault, who departed this life two years ago, on November 23, 1960
Broken is the family circle.

Our dear one is passed away,
Passed from earth and earthly darkness
Into bright and Perfect day.
But we all must cease to languish.
O'er the grave of him we love,
Strive to be prepared to meet him.
In the better world above.
His life was earnest, his actions kind.
A generous hand and an active mind,
Anxious to please, loath to offend
A loving father, and faithful friend. Wife and Children

Firemen's Gift

E. T. Mitchell, of Mitchell's cab service, Appomattox, displays the major's official statement authorizing him to collect money for Appomattox firemen. Also shown is one of the many checks Mitchell has already collected. Individual contributions have run from $1 to $100 during the 20 years he has been playing "Santa Claus" for the local firemen, Mitchell reports. Would you like to give something, too? Just see E. T. Mitchell. He says he really appreciates the service the volunteer fire fighters render, and feels that almost everybody else feels that way, too.

R. A. D. Report:

Welfare Service And Charity Organization

One of the great tasks of Public Welfare is to assist and restore those who are uprooted by the shifting tides of change, and provide the means of satisfying life for those who because of age or stress and strains, cannot meet or cope with family breakdown, dependency, juvenile delinquency, crime, mental illness, illegitimacy, alcoholism, blindness and other social ills. In providing financial and physical assistances for these needs we are giving raise standards of living for the people in our local areas.

The County Welfare program is designed to furnish services and financial aid in the above mentioned cases.

The following figures show the number of persons aided in Appomattox County in 1960, as set up in assistance categories:

Old age assistance, 85; aid to Dependent Children, 20; families-children 80; aid to permanently and totally disabled, 23; aid to the blind, 0; General Assistance, 35; Foster Care, 12; Hospitalization, 31; Court Cases-mostly juveniles, 25; Adoptions, 8, Rehabilitated, 36; Mentally Ill and Mentally Retarded, 6.

It might be interesting to note that O.A.A., A.D. C., and A.P.T. D. Cases have decreased almost one - half during the past ten years, whereas juvenile delinquency has increased. Experience has proved that the Welfare program is needed in our local area to do a job that no other Agency reaches.

Besides our Welfare Program in the County other Service, Charitable and Medical Research organizations in our County are doing much to advance our standards of living. By either solicited or voluntary contributions, funds are raised for approximately 13 different crganizations by individual fund drives during the year. In 1961, the Citizens of Appomattox County contributed approximately $8,000,00, for these causes, some of the major ones being, The March of Dimes, Heart Fund, Red Cross, Cancer Fund, Crippled Children's Society, Childrens Home Society, Boy Scouts, of America, Girl Scouts of America, and others

Many of the necessary goals are raised in the Fund Drives, while some fall far short of what is needed to carry out the program successfully.

In some organizations all the money collected in the County is sent outside the County to a state or National organization, whereas in some a portion is kept in the County for local service and aid. Quite often lack of funds in these organizations has caused their programs in Appomattox County to suffer.

The R.A.D. Committee in general, feels that if Appomattox County formed a United Fund Organization with one Fund Drive each year, that this would bring a great relief to the Volunteer Workers of the different organizations, as well as to the individual contributors and also that the funds could be distributed as to the necessary goals and in this way more aid and benefits to our citizens. The R.A.D. Committee invites your feelings and suggestions on this matter.

Garden Club To Sponsor Home Decoration Contest

At the November meeting of the Garden Club, members voted to again sponsor the Christmas Decoration Contest for homes in the town and nearby vicinity of Appomattox. Further details and rules of judging will be announced later.

A committee from the Rural Area Development group, Mrs. Carrie Gilbert, Mrs. Toby Inge, and Dr. J. A. Matthews, spoke to the Club on problems facing our town and county in economy, the schools, home and church life. Questionnaires were distributed for ideas, as to how these existing problems may best be approached and improved.

Mrs. Horace Folks entertained the Club with a hilarious Garden Club skit. Mrs. R. C. Hubbard was awarded a prize for a Thanksgiving arrangement "In Grateful Praise".

B. T. U. To Hold "M" Night

Baptist Training Union "M" night will be held in the First Baptist Church in Dillwyn December 3 at 7:30 p.m.

The annual Carol sing for the association will be under the direction of Mrs. Gordon Ragland, who is the association's music director. Reverend John Adams will be our organist. A solo will be rendered by Mrs. Paul Cave.

Our guest speaker of the occasion will be Reverend John W. Gordon, pastor of the Bacon's Castle Baptist Church in Surry County.

Cub Scouts To Receive Awards Tonight

A special award ceremony will be held tonight, Thursday, at State Police Headquarters on Route 46. Local Cub Scouts will be receiving awards, and parents, friends, and other interested persons are invited to attend the program. Times is 7:30 p.m.

New Forestry Club Organized For Appomattox; Contests Start

Farmers, pulpwood growers, lumbermen from private companies, FFA and 4-H members, and state and county forestry experts met Monday night in Appomattox to form a Forestry Club.

In organizing a Forestry Club Appomattox County thus joins 15 other counties in Virginia which already have Forestry Clubs in operation.

A county - wide Forestry Contest was also announced with the promise of prizes and increased farm income for Appomattox timber and pulpwood growers.

West Va. Pulp and Paper Co. was host to the more than twenty-five representatives of every phase of wood growing and processing in the county who gathered for dinner and after - dinner talks by a number of officials of state organizations and private industry.

VPI Forester Shows Slides

Woodmen heard C. E. Gill, Associate Extension Forester from VPI say, "I think we underestimate the value of our planted trees. We are used to thinking of the natural growth of trees, rather than our "managed" areas."

He illustrated his talk with colored slides showing how farmers in adjoining counties have reforested their land and reaped good profits and prizes through a Forestry Club and its related yearly contests.

Jim Smith, Appomattox County Agent, stated that County Forestry Clubs have proved to be the means of getting many woodland owners to better manage their woods. While these clubs are primarily a VPI extension activity, he said, their operation is a cooperative effort between various agencies and groups.

Contest Announced

Thos. Jamerson, land management officer for Burrus Lumber Co., Pamplin, announced that his company will supply prizes for the first annual Fore-try contest.

A Forestry contest is the major activity of a VPI Extension Forestry Club, it was explained. Each member of a forestry club agrees to complete one or more forestry projects, that will improve an existing woodland or establish one. At the end of the contest year, Sept. 30, 1963, these projects are judged, and the winners in both adult and junior divisions are recognized at a special meeting of the club.

Adults offer a minimum of 3 acres in the contest; junior entrants, 1 acre. They may enter five different forestry practices: 1. Planting tree seedlings or direct seeding of pine. 2. Deadening or removal of undesirable growth with hand tools. 3. Thinning stands of inferior leaf or loblolly pine, 4. Releasing young trees 5. Clearing and preparing tree sites with heavy equipment.

Entry blanks were distributed at the meeting, and Agent Smith announced that more may be obtained from District Forester Paul Thompson, Chief Fire Warden, David Smith, Clayton Marshall at the Kelly Yood Yard, and Smith, himself.

These are to be returned not later than January 31. He emphasized that this contest is open to everyone in the county who grows trees except professional agriculture workers.

Va. Div. of Forestry

Paul Thompson, District Forester, speaking for the Va. Division of Forestry, asked each Forestry Club member to suggest to his friends, "plant trees". This is especially important, he said, when friends ask what to do with an unproductive piece of land.

He stated that all services of the Va. Div. of Forestry are free to county farmers and woodsmen except for tree marking which carries a nominal fee of approximately $1 an acre.

West Va. Pulp and Paper Co.

Carroll Mays, speaking for West Va. Pulp and Paper Co., likewise pointed out that his company offers many services free to county farmers. These include reforestation work, investigation of a forest site, appraisal work, and a "matching" plan which provides the farmer twice as many seedlings as he buys. Thus, in their "1 for 1 matching plan", Mays said, 10,000 seedlings which could cost for $85 may now be bought for a little as $20.

Direct Seeding

Direct seeding is a fairly new development, the woodsmen were told. These seed do not look like ordinary pine seed. Smith told the group. The seeds are coated with an aluminum colored treatment to make them readily visible to the planter yet, at the same time, almost completely repellent to rats, mice, and birds.

Need Planting Bars

Both Thompson and David Smith, of the Va. Div. of Forestry, spoke of the need for additional planting bars. In the busy planting months of Jan.- March, they said, the supply of available planting bars is inadequate for farmers' demans. Richard Carter, Voc-Ag teacher of Appomattox High School told the group his students would be making these planters in the near future.

Work of 6 Men

Jim Smith, County Agent, gave much credit for the establishment of the Forestry Club to the six men of Appomattox County who make up the county Extension Forestry Committee. They are Julian Franklin, Spout Spring Hunter Nash, Spout Spring, Berkley Brown, Rt. 2, Appomattox, Martin Kraus, Concord, P. M. Irving , Pamplin, and Eddie Gunter, Concord.

Others Present

Others who were present and who participated in the plans for the new club are L. C. Reynolds forest warden and farmer of this county, Dan Moody, Asst County Agent, E. W. Jones and D. J. Franklin, both pulpwood growers, John L. Harrison, soil conservationist of Appomattox and Campbell counties, H. P. Evans, county supervisor for the Farmers Home Administration, Newton Jennings, ASCS office manager, D. M. Wood, E. D. Jones, Paul Mayberry, W. D. Mayberry, Alpha Thacker Cheatham, Sammie Scott, Thomas Lucado, and Cecil Dean of the FFA, and Jimmy Martin of the Oakville 4-H Club.

Middle Grades Strong

Sales Heavy As Dark Tobacco Markets Open; Prices Good

All elements considered, the auction season of 1962 for Virginia dark-fired tobacco could be a pretty substantial affair for growers who have had their acreage cut to the bone.

For the first three days of sales, bidding by buyers has been active, the effects of higher price supports have been evident and the new crop, unlike a year ago, has no serious defects to compare with 1961's basket after basket of green and non-descript leaf.

While no grower, buyer or warehouseman wants to equate a whole crop with what they have seen in three days of auctions, nevertheless anyone who visits warehouses now can see improvements over a year ago.

Better Color

The 1962 crop has a much better and uniform color running to the "medium" or in-between color of the three official colors of brown used in the grading and price support systems. light brown, medium brown and dark brown. The consensus is that the medium brown of this year will fit best into buyers' needs.

There hasn't been a great deal seen of the No. 1 quality leaf, or "choice," but there have been substantial amounts of fine and good leaf, the 2's and 3's which help build the farmers' floor averages for a day's sale.

Predominately, the 1962 crop seems to run to the middle grades, and that's where growers get some help from the increased price supports, up $1 to $3 on the middle grades. The light and medium brown lugs also have a $2 hike in supports and this crop so far has graded in these colors on lug offerings.

Many farmers say they did not get their accustomed poundage this year, and market observers are predicting that the 1962 crop will weigh out light because of leaf size.

Heavy Sales

The three Virginia dark belt markets at Lynchburg, Farmville and Blackstone have had heavy sales for the first three days. Opening day at Lynchburg the poundage was 319,672, and at Farmville it was slightly Figures for Blackstone, which does not market as much as the other two, were not available.

Sales Tuesday and Wednesday have approximated opening days poundage, and the first week in the belt at that rate well could amount to a fourth of the whole crop or something like 2,500,000 pounds. Heavy sales prior to the December 18 Christmas holiday shutdown were anticipated, however.

Farmville's three warehouses combined had an opening day average of approximately $41 per hundredweight, compared to $40.30 a year ago. Lynchburg reported on the opening day average of $39.85 compared to $40.43 for 1961. More combined tobacco was offered at Lynchburg.

Warehouses reported numerous growers with sales averaging $5 and even bigger, with the markets reporting wrapper grades and red Austrian leaf topping sales at $60 to $66.

The 1961 crop amounted to 9,766,388 pounds which returned growers $3,787,57. The general average was $38.78. If opening week holds up, 1962 is headed above those figures.

Bloodmobile Comes Tomorrow At 11 A.M.

The Red Cross Bloodmobile arrives tomorrow to begin taking donations at 11 a.m. Jim Cobb, county chairman for the Red Cross blood program, says that he is very much encouraged by the number of advance pledges by prospective donors.

"You will not have to wait" he says," the Bloodmobile has ample facilities to take care of all donors as soon as they arrive."

County Jaycees plus Ruritans from the Pamplin and Evergreen clubs have promised support in securing donors.

"If you can't give a pint of blood, yourself," says Cobb, "persuade two others who can!" Appomattox County quota is 184 pints. A 90 per cent county benefits, itself and others, say Red Cross officials.

Hours tomorrow are 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Ladies of the Liberty Baptist Church WMU are providing refreshments for the canteen.

Boy Scouts Hope To Raise $400 As Drive Closes

W. C. Dudley of Appomattox, and director of the annual county fund appeal to support the Boy Scouts of America program, says that he hopes to "wind up" the current drive within the next few days.

A total of $253 was collected last year in the county, and the fund chairmen hope to make it at least $400 this year, Dudley stated.

Contributions help to support five full time Scout field executives in the Piedmont Area Council plus a service staff in Lynchburg as well as the distribution of various Scout publications and program helps to local scout troops.

Dudley asks that anyone who has not yet been contacted and who wishes to contribute to the Scout drive please get in touch with him at the Board of Education office or get in touch with anyone of these four local chairmen: Ivey Holland, town of Appomattox; Rev. Virgil Hudson, Evergreen; R. E. McDermott, Sr. Pamplin; Hubert Richardson, Oakville.

Appomattox County is part of the 11-county Council area without Community Chest campaigns in which campaign managers hope to raise the $20,299 balance of the Council's 1963 needs. The Council's 1963 budget has been set at $70,824, but $50,425 of that sum is provided through Community Chests and United Funds.

Happy Hunter

Don Conner, above, a fifth grader of Appomattox Elementary School went out for the first time this season with his own gun and license. His first hunt, on Sat., Nov. 24, netted him a rabbit and a squirrel, and a happy surprise for his parents and family, the Sam Conners. of Appomattox. "I like both rabbit and squirrel meat," remarked Don. who bagged his rabbit with one shot, the squirrel with two. His hunting companion was an uncle, Sid Conner. of Collinsville.

Lions Sell Fruitcake

Lion DeWitt Evans, of Farmer's Nat'l Bank is shown selling a fruitcake to Oscar Jamerson, pulpwood and lumber dealer, during a recent morning's call at the bank in Appomattox. Evans reported that these tasty fruitcakes have become increasingly popular with county customers during the seven years the Lions have been selling them. The whole project soundscd and looked so tempting . . . that the photographer bought one, too! Now everybody on the TIMES staff likewise agrees that "these cakes are the greatest!" You can buy them from any Lion — gift boxed, already sliced, — and profits from the sale will aid in the Lion' Sight Saving Program.
